Dear hiring manager,

Throughout my studies I have interacted with several programming languages such as C++, Java, HTML and C#, but I have programmed primarily with C and Python, and I believe this has allowed me to grow as a programmer and be more versatile.

I am a passionate and ambitious individual who views every programming language as a tool in a toolbox, this ideology is what spurs me on to always garner new skills and knowledge as well as obtain a deeper understanding of the language and its interaction with the system.

I believe programming is not only a means to an end but a form of art as well, a way to materialize our ideas.

Sincerely,

Yankho Nothana
