Dear hiring manager,

I am applying for this position as I believe that I would be a good addition to your development team. Although I may not meet all your requirements, I believe that my willingness to learn, coupled with my interactions of various software development paradigms, concepts and programming languages such as C, C++, Java, C#, python, Visual Basic and Delphi have allowed me to grow as a developer by enabling me to be more versatile and adaptable.

I am a passionate and ambitious individual who is looking to break into the software development industry in order to use the knowledge I have acquired. I view every development utility as a tool in a toolbox, this ideology is what spurs me on to always garner new skills and knowledge as well as obtain a deeper understanding of development concepts, programming languages and best practices in order to better grasp their roles in the development process and use them effectively to develop better software.

I believe development is not only a means to an end but a form of artistic expression as well, a way to materialize our ideas.

Sincerely,
Yankho
